SUMMARY

I'm a multifaceted professional thriving in three dynamic roles, blending leadership, creativity, and analytical expertise. As a Team Leader in International Sales, I guide teams to surpass goals, build strong client relationships, and drive growth in global markets. With over three years of experience as a broker, I excel in negotiation and strategic business development.

As a self-employed Frontend Developer, I craft responsive, user-focused web interfaces using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I'm passionate about transforming ideas into intuitive and visually engaging digital experiences that resonate with users.

In my role as a Data Analyst, I dive into complex datasets to uncover insights that power strategic decisions. Skilled in SQL, Python, and data visualization tools, I turn raw data into clear, actionable solutions.
